

Vaccination Policy

The health and safety of the university community is our top priority, and Denison makes every effort to ensure that the university is as proactive as possible at protecting the health and well-being of our community. While the vaccination requirement alone cannot always stop outbreaks, the medical evidence shows that higher vaccination levels among a population lead to greater protection and less severe symptoms should an outbreak occur.

With this in mind, all students must complete Denison University vaccination requirements before the start of the student's first semester. Failure to meet the applicable requirements may result in a hold placed on the student account, prohibiting the scheduling classes and access to residence halls, and/or the rescission of an admission offer.

Required Vaccinations

The university selected the required vaccines based on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommendations, which the State of Ohio also follows for grades K-12. Additionally, Denison added the meningococcal conjugate (ACWY) vaccination for students who are new to residence halls because college students are at higher risk for the disease, particularly those living in dense living quarters such as residence halls. Following are the required vaccinations:

International Students

Denison is aware that some international students may not have access to certain vaccinations before arriving on campus. The Wellness Center will work with international students to obtain any required vaccinations that are unavailable prior to their arrival. These students are required to notify the Wellness Center by sending an email to wellness@denison.edu.

Vaccination Exemption Policy

At Denison University, we strive to balance the health and safety of our community with the practical realities of operating an entirely residential campus. Based on input from public health experts, we require a series of vaccinations to enroll as a student at Denison. Medical exemptions to vaccination requirements will be considered on a case-by-case basis by completing the exemption request process.

If you have any questions about Denison's Vaccination Policy, please reach out via email to admission@denison.edu.
