

R.J. Dannemiller Sustainability Award

Nomination Form

The R.J. Dannemiller Sustainability Award was created in 2013 by former Granville, resident, R.J. Dannemiller. R.J. has a keen interest in the social and environmental aspects of sustainability and wants to recognize those each year by awarding a graduating senior, whose curricular and co-curricular work at Denison has embodied sustainability at its core. Along with recognition and a certificate, the student will receive $500.

Student's Full Name
Major & Minor
Faculty/Staff Nominator
Department/Office
Phone
E-mail:

Student Accomplishments

Please include general and specific information related to how this student has demonstrated significant contributions to campus, local, and/or global sustainability.

Please type your comments here and/or attach documentation or a letter of recommendation.

Return to: Jeremy King, Campus Sustainability Coordinator, Denison University
kingje@denison.edu

DEADLINE: MARCH 31